WORK OF THE REVOLVER

A Negro Shot Down While Pursuing With a Club.

An Innocent Miner Accidentally Gets in the Way of a "Wild" Bullet—George Lewis Shot Down While Pursuing for His Life.

Little Rock, Sept. 24.—A tragedy resulting in the death of George Lewis, a negro, has occurred at Camden, Ark., as is known as a political negro, and was killed by John C. Ritchie, who was a Republican candidate for Sheriff at the recent election. The particulars, as far as can be learned, are about as follows: Ritchie and several friends were engaged in front of Morgan's drug store, when Bowie walked up to the party. Ritchie requested him to move on, as his conversation was private. He beckoned, when Ritchie touched him on the neck with the light walking stick. The negro then started away, but changed his mind and came at Ritchie with a club elevated in the air. Ritchie retreated, and as his opponent moved forward, he drew a revolver and fired. The ball entered Lewis's head above the left eye and went crashing through his brain, killing him instantly.

The Innocent Passenger.

Boulder, Col., Sept. 24.—A passenger on a miner, was killed by John Paul at Gold Hill, a Boulder County mining camp, on Saturday night. Paul was in Ed. Hoy's saloon wrestling with some of the boys, when John Hersinger came in, and caught Paul by the shirt collar and commenced to threaten him. Paul said he did not want to fight, but the other man would not listen. Paul then drew a revolver and fired at Hersinger, hitting him in the face with a pair of metal knuckles, cutting his face badly. Paul then went behind the bar to wash the blood off, and a revolver in the drawer, he picked it up. Hersinger said: "Pull your gun if you want to," calling him some ugly names, and ran out the door, calling it to after him. Paul fired before the door was fairly closed, the ball passing through the door and over Hersinger's head. Hersinger ran around the corner of the building out of sight and Paul followed to the door and fired without being able to see who might be in the way, it being very dark. The ball struck John, who happened to be passing in the left arm and passed into his body cutting the aorta. Joy expired almost instantly. He leaves a wife and one child. In the East, Paul was arraigned before Justice Finley, of Gold Hill, who committed him to jail.

Shot Through the Heart.

Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 24.—Last night about 9 o'clock a most outrageous murder was committed in front of the Court House in this city, while the street was densely crowded with pedestrians. The particulars are as follows: George Lewis, aged twenty-two years, and John Gordon, aged twenty-two, went into a saloon in the early part of the evening, and during a friendly conversation became involved in a dispute. Lewis had been drinking and was partly intoxicated. Gordon missed his watch and charged Lewis with stealing it. He seized the clock, but Gordon would not pay any attention to that, and they were calling each other hard names, when the proprietor of the place ordered them to be quiet or leave the place, when Lewis got up and ran out of the saloon, Gordon pursuing. When passing the Court House Gordon put out at Smith & Wacker's revolver, took a direct aim at Lewis, fired, and the latter dropped on the pavement, dying instantly, the ball having penetrated the heart. An ambulance was secured, and the body conveyed to the deceased's home, which was on the outskirts of the city. The minute the report of the pistol was heard great excitement prevailed, and the policeman had great difficulty in getting to the scene and placing it in the ambulance. It is rumored that the other person was injured, as the street was densely crowded at the time. Gordon did not attempt to conceal himself, but delivered himself up to the police authorities and admitted that he did the shooting. He was immediately taken to jail and placed in an iron cell. The coroner held an inquest on the body of Lewis, and the jury rendered a verdict that Lewis came to his death by being shot by Gordon. Both men are married. Lewis leaves a wife and one child and Gordon has a wife and two children. When the body of the victim was taken to his home his wife was overcome with grief, and threw into convulsions, and it was with the utmost difficulty that she could be consoled.

MANKED BY A BEAR.

Terrible Fate of a Twelve-Year-Old Girl.
Portland, Ore., Sept. 24.—At the town of Reuben, Idaho, Sunday, a pet cinnamon bear becoming enraged savagely attacked a twelve-year-old girl on the street. The child was dreadfully mangled with its claws and teeth, and bled nearly to death. Several men rushed to the rescue, when the infuriated animal turned on them. One man had his hand nearly bitten off, and others were very badly torn. The bear then made its escape. The little girl's recovery is pronounced hopeless. There is great public indignation against the owner of the bear.

Altogether, Pretty Well Fixed.

New York, Sept. 24.—A dispatch to Inspector Byrne from Chief of Police Adams, of Boston, calls for the arrest of Charles O. Stevens, formerly in the dry goods business in Boston, who on the 17th absconded with $25,000 worth of city bonds which he stole from the broker's office. Stevens is described as thirty-six years old, five feet nine inches high, dark complexion, black moustache, short side whiskers, and with weight 160 pounds. He is well dressed, gentlemanly appearing, a good talker, had money besides the bonds and good jewelry.

That Meridian Question.

Paris, Sept. 24.—It is announced here that England will join the International Commission on the meridian system of weights and measures. This action is attributed here to a desire to promote the chance of the adoption of the Meridian of Greenwich by the approaching International Meridian Congress at Washington.

Will McDonald, 2542 E. 10th St., Chicago, gratefully acknowledges a cure of salt rheum on head, neck, face, arms and legs for years, not able to walk except on hands and knees one year; not able to help himself for eight years; tried hundreds of remedies; doctor's prescriptions; and finally cured by Cuticura Resolvent (6 o'clock) and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cure) externally.

A SINGLE FACT

Is Worth a Ship-Load of Argument.

CARTERSVILLE, GA. This will certify that two members of my immediate family, after having suffered for many years from menstrual irregularity, and having been treated without benefit by various medical doctors, were at length completely cured by one bottle of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator. Its effect on such cases is wonderful, and well may the remedy be called "Woman's Best Friend."

Yours respectfully, JAMES W. STRANGE. ENTIRE AND ABSOLUTE SATISFACTION.

Maj. John C. Whitner, of Atlanta, well and favorably known all over the United States as a General Insurance Agent, says: "I used this remedy before the war on a large plantation in a great number of cases, always with absolute success."

Dr. J. Davis, of Milltown, Ala., writes: "I have used Bradfield's Regulator extensively in my practice with entire success. It is not a specific, it is in my opinion, the best known remedy for the diseases for which it is recommended."

A lady of Bonham, Texas, writes: "I have been using your Female Regulator for several weeks and with great benefit. My case is of long standing, and has baffled many physicians. I have tried every medicine I could hear of, but the Regulator is the only one that has ever relieved my distressing sufferings."

—NOVEMBER, A. L. A. Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator has been thoroughly tested by me in a great variety of cases, and I am fully convinced that it is unrivaled for that class of diseases which it claims to cure. J. C. HENRY, M. D.
